PTSD is much more widespread in the general population than was thought when it was first introduced as a diagnostic category.

Instead of waiting for its turn to signal a cell to divide or grow, the BRAF protein is out of control.

That promised to establish a new iron ore export hub, 1,200 km (750 miles) from rail lines controlled by BHP.